VILLA WANTS CARTRIDGES

Says if He Had Ammunition He Would March to Mexico City.

DEFENDS THE CARRANZA NOTE

Insists that First Chief is Friendly and that its Language Has Been Misunderstood by the Secretary of State.

EL. PASO, Tex., April 25.-The international political situation cleared greatly today as affecting the status of the rebel government and that of the Unied States. This city and Juarez were perfectly quiet. to Chihuahua ionight.

Francisco Villa, who arrived at Juarez the United States, particularly as that would serve to draw the Huerta chestnuts out of the wire. He repeated these assertions to George C. Carothers, special agent of the State department, and to a Mexican. newspaper men and many other visitors. To J. T. McClammy, his cattle agent on this side of the river, he said:

"It's that little drunkard Huerta's fight: let him fight it. I wish I had 10,900,000 cartridges right now; I'd march into Mexico City without a stop."

Robel Note Misuaderstood. Villa said that Carranga's note had been misunderstood and that the first chief was as friendly as he was to the United States. Roberto V. Pesqueira and other Carranga representatives here said that an idlomatic expression in common use in Mexico was literally interpreted in the translation of Carranga's note to Secretary Bryan last Wednesday.

The translation made Carranga say that he had desired to avoid war with the United States "until" today.

As a matter of fact the expression meant that although his friend, the United States had done a wrongful act and had thereby injured a friend (Carranza), he desired to avoid war and always would desire to avoid it, explained

Pesqueira, Would Like Aid. Villa frankly took the position that he would like to avail himself of what is in effect, aid from the United States forces to prosecute his campaign. His wish for 10,000,000 cartridges, however, could not be gratified today, as the embargo was on again, officially this time, and Uve rapid firers which were brought to the customs house were turned back Villa was given to understand that the embargo was temporary, and he said that he acquiesced in any measures taken to relieve the strain of present relations Traffle to Juarez was again closed tonight and the gambling balls and saloons consequently were out of commission. in El Pase the troops remained in the city, reinforced by the arrival of Rattery B'of the Third field artillery from Sin Antonio, but there was a visible reduction in the temperature of the political atmosphere.

Not Only Federal Overture. Pesqueira is authority for the statemen that the federal commander at Guaymas, General Tellez, who offered to join with the rebels in that district against the United States, is not the only federal who has made similar overtures and been contemptionaly rebuffed. He said a similar proposition was made by the Huerta commander at Monterey, and by committee representing Huertistas in and dictated a telegram of cetigratulations to General Pablo Gonzales, commander of the constitutionalists forces in Saltille, south of Monterey and then San Luis Potosi would be the next federal posts to be attacked.

Wire Run Into His House.

A telegraph wire was run into his house cation with his forces at Torreon and hospital work,

Asked point blank as to his attitude with respect to Carranza's note to Sec- ficials in the hope of inducing them to metary Bryan Villa looked sharply at his return to their work. ind Mor, walked to the window, came back and then after two false starts, said bruptly: "It was a great mistake that from his forehead and added:

"Well, friend, I am only a subordinate officer and I don't believe that it is best in reality two customs. Marian O. Asthat I should give out my views-not yet, anyway." Bursts Into Laughter.

Then he burst into laughter and said: a hole yet with your unending questions, occupation. You'll get me to say something before I am ready to say it. Just say that I know war too well to want it, and particularly we don't want it with your country across the line. I like them for a fact. Americans have stood by me when needed friends and I know them better. than any other foreigners in Mexico."

HEAVY LOSSES OF MEXICANS Hundred and Twenty-Six Dead and

195 Wounded. WASHINGTON, April 25.-One hundred and twenty-six Mexicans have been killed and 195 wounded in the fighting at Vers Cruz since the American forces landed there Tuesday. The first lofficial announcement of Mexican casualties came tonight in a dispatch from Rear Admiral Fletcher, made public by the Navy department in this statement:

'Admiral Fletcher further reported that at 5 p. m. today he informed Admiral Hadger that quiet prevailed throughout Vera Cruz, and that affairs generally are being straightened out and confidence restored. The city council, he said, had called a meeting for 4 o'clock this afternoon in an endeavor to retain present municipal officials in office.

Refugees Arrive. "Admiral Badger in a dispatch dated rived from Mex'co City at 2 p. m. to-

The refuges question is new the most difficult of all. Admiral Badger stated.

Rear Admiral Badger reported to the Navy department tonight that his forces at Vera Criz were so strongly posted that no attack from the Mexicans was expected at present. He said there had been no further casualties and that the wounded were doing well.

Reporting to the Navy department from Vera Cruz under date of 4 % p. m. today Rear Admiral Badger said: Following received from the captain of the British cruiser Berwick at Puerto.

Secretary Daniels said he had wired Admiral Badger the necessary authority. Admiral Badger's report continued:

Reports received from Yucatan indisate considerable number of refugees at Progreso, Fronters and other ports. Will charter steamer Monterey and held here as a refugee deposit ship until filled. Steamer Mexico full of refugers, number ing about 600, and will sail for Galveston. today or tomorrow.'

Divisions Organized.

VERA CRUZ, April 24.-Five divisions f the civil administration were organized today-police, sanitary, harbor, finance and customs. An effort was made to A long note from Secretary Bryan to place Mexicans as the heads of all the the federal commander at Guaymas, Gen- of the copper company, and served notice Carranza was transmitted through Juarez departments. This was found to be impossible at least in two departments and American officers were assigned. They yesterday, repeated his declaration that are Lieutenant Commander McNeely of would not be drawn into a war with the battleship Louisiana, who was appointed chief of police, and the fleet paymaster, who was made collector of customs. An American will be made inspector over each department headed by

The police provisions call for a continu ance of the patrol of Americans, although the Mexicans have been invited to cooperate in the organization of native force. The customs receipts, it is said. may be placed to the credit of the United States.

Publications Under Scrutiny.

Close scrutiny will be maintained over and no editorial comment concerning the American occupation or news regarding the movement of troops will be permitted, The commandant of the San Juan de loa fortress in the inner harbor, dressed in full uniform, called on Rear Admiral Fletcher today and was granted permission to take supplies to the women and children refugees in the fortress. The battleship Louisiana salled for Galveston to convoy the army transports to Vera Cruz.

Relations Cordial.

The most cordial relations exist between Rear Admiral Badger and Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock, commander of the British cruiser squadron here. They have agreed to divide the time for the use of the wireless as follows: Six hours. for the American fleet, six for the British and the remainder for other nations.

The Nashville departed today for Puerco Mexico to take refugees on board. American and Hawallan steamers have been permitted by Mexican officials to resume the leading of sugar there. All messages from that place, however, are censored.

The battleship Louisiana arrived today and immediately landed marines and blue lackets. The Mississippi also prepared to send ashore 700 marines, a battalion of bluejackets and two aeroplanes. By tomorrow the total force on shore will probably reach 6,500.

These outposts have been equipped with twelve machine guns and several threeinch field pieces, which were taken to the front today by means of teams of six horses to each gun.

Find Wounded Mexicans. Rear Admiral Fletcher's headquarters at the Terminal hotel are guarded by machine guns, while seven field pieces are' held in reserve in the vicinity.

The commissary, ordinance and quartermaster's departments worked efficiently. All supplies were promptly distributed among the troops, who also re-ceived distilled water from the ships under the superintendency of the medical department.

Over 550 Mexican sick and wounded were found in the San Sebastian hospital. In the mortuary of the hospital there taken Monterey was received by Villa to- ammunition was also found here. The were forty Mexican dead. A supply of "Esta Bien" (it is good) he remarked fire of the warships and the rifle fire of the landing parties by the hospital flag.
